Highway 61 Construction

Improvements to Highway 61 along a 20 km area between Jarvis Bay Road and Highway 130 are being completed over the next two years. This result of this work will widen the highway and create paved shoulders.

Still a Few Spots Left!!! On-Site Food Waste Diversion Pilot Project

The Municipality of Neebing is once again partnering with Ottawa based company, Food Cycle Science to pilot an on-site food waste diversion solution that will reduce the amount of food waste headed to the landfills.

Neebing will provide FoodCycler machines at a subsidized price for residents to test in their homes over a 12-week period. Each resident will track the amount of food waste they have diverted throughout the pilot duration to estimate the total impact of the pilot program.

The FoodCycler now comes in two sizes, 2.5 litres and 5 liters. Registration to participate in the program is now open. Only 50 spots available. Residents will be able to choose which size they want at the time of registration.

For information on the FoodCycler and the pilot program, visit www.neebing.org/foodcycler. For any questions, please contact the Clerk-Treasurer at (807) 474-5331 or clerk@neebling.org.

Why you should participate in the program?

Food waste is responsible for up to 10% of global greenhouse gas emissions and 47% of food waste comes from households. By reducing your food waste by 90%, you can lower your household garbage output by up to 50% and reduce your carbon footprint.

Coming January 2024 New Landfill Punch Cards

Neebing Council has passed a new by-law that will come into effect on January 1, 2024. The effect of the by-law is that punch cards will replace the current bag tag system. Permanent residents will still be allowed 100 bags and seasonal residents will be allowed 50 bags. However, free tags will no longer be provided in exchange for bags of recycling. Watch for details on distribution of the punch cards in the Neebing News, Facebook and the website over the coming months.

Notice of Adoption of By-law to Change Ward Boundaries and Council Composition

THE CORPORATION OF THE MUNICIPALITY OF NEEBING

Please take notice that the Council of The Corporation of the Municipality of Neebing, at its regular meeting held on August 16, 2023, passed By-law 2023-034 to change the ward boundaries and Council composition, pursuant to Section 222 of the Municipal Act, 2001.

Effects of the change:

Under the current composition, there are seven (7) members of Council, made up of a Mayor, a Councillor elected at large, and five (5) ward Councillors (one each for electoral wards made up of the geographic townships of Blake, Crooks, Pardee, Pearson and Scoble).

In November 2021, By-law 2021-043 was passed which changed Council composition to include five (5) members of Council, made up of a Mayor and four (4) ward Councillors (one each for electoral wards made up of the four geographic townships of Blake, Crooks and Scoble; and one for the combined geographic townships of Pardee and Pearson).

By-law 2023-034 repeals by-law 2021-043 and maintains the current structure and ward boundaries.

How to appeal:

Under Subsection 222(4) of the Municipal Act, 2001, any person or agency may appeal to the Ontario Land Tribunal (OLT) by filing a notice of appeal with the Clerk-Treasurer of the Municipality of Neebing.

The Notice of Appeal must:

- be filed within 45 days of the by-law being passed;
- set out the objection to the by-law and the reasons in support of the objection; and
- be accompanied by the fees required by the Ontario Land Tribunal (certified cheque or money order payable to the "Minister of Finance").

The by-law will not take effect or be in force until after the appeal period has passed without an appeal, or, in the case of an appeal, until after the appeal has been heard. If there are no appeals, the by-law will take effect for the 2026 Municipal election.

For the by-law to be effective for the 2026 election, one of the following must occur:

- No notices of appeal are filed;
- If notices of appeal are filed, they are withdrawn before January 1, 2026; or
- If notices of appeal are filed, the Ontario Land Tribunal either affirms or amends the by-law before January 1, 2026.

If the by-law comes into force after January 1, 2026, then it will be effective for the 2030 election.

The deadline to file a notice of appeal is Monday, Monday, October 2, 2023 at 5:00 pm.

Further information regarding this matter may be obtained by contacting the Clerk-Treasurer at 807-474-5331 or clerk@neebing.org.

The LRCA declared a Level I Low Water Condition for the LRCA Area of Jurisdiction on August 3, 2023. This declaration is based on one-month and three-month received precipitation and observed flow conditions in area streams when compared to the lowest average summer flows. Affected residents (households utilizing private wells) are advised to monitor their water levels and usage, as they may experience shortages if the lack of precipitation continues into the fall.

Chix in the Stix Boundaries

Trigger warning - talk of snakes and other creepy things. The story continues. So picking up where I left off, the tiny frogs keep popping up around the house. and have just become a daily thing. I still don't know where they're coming from. Last night one appeared in the bathroom at about 2am. I was too tired to show him out but didn't want him wandering off so popped a little cup on top of him and apologized for my rudeness in the morning when I escorted him to the great outdoors. They really are the cutest things. Crickets are still around too and there seem to be lots of them this year but they are mostly staying outside with only the occasional house guest. Soon the spiders will appear, seeking warmth. My unspoken deal with them is that if they can stay out of sight they MIGHT have a fighting chance. I tend to not be as forgiving with spiders. So for the most part I have continued to enjoy and embrace all the critters. But then last week I opened the door and there on the mat were not one, not two, but three garter snakes. Good sized ones. They were pretty comfortable basking in the sun and didn't seem to care one bit that I had come upon them. I maintained my composure somehow and politely suggested they move along. They declined. I pushed one of them with the walking stick I keep beside the door and they finally retreated. Down a crack right against the house where I surmise they have their nest. Heaven help me. They kept poking their heads out and as I made a few trips back and forth to the car one of them made a beeline for the house. He tucked themselves under the bench behind the bucket of bird seed. I calmly (I'm lying) went to the kitchen and grabbed the extra long BBQ tongs, moved the bird seed and prayed. He was coiled up and looked a bit concerned. I know I was talking to myself. Or to him. Or my higher power. I can't recall but I know there were words coming out of my mouth. Some which I can't repeat here. I reached with the tongs, grabbed him and did an actually pretty impressive toss out the door to the lawn and as far away from the house as I could manage. Slammed the door. Carried on with my day. I have left the tongs at the door and now peek out the window before going out. THEN a few days ago while I sat down to feed my birds (indoor ones, in a cage, and yes they are all mine) I saw one. Our living room is 'sunken' and our windows go all the way down to almost ground level. So when I'm sitting in my chair the bottom of the window ledge is at about eye level. I looked and there he was basking in the sun on the window ledge. He was just a little guy and kind of cute actually and we made eye contact and I swear he smiled. But man oh man. I have used up pretty much all of my courage, calm and general acceptance of wild creatures at the moment. I am trying not to imagine a potential nest of garter snakes somewhere on the mountain. I keep telling myself they will control the mouse population. I am thankful for a bed that is very high off the floor and last night slept upstairs in my daughter's room. It did cross my mind that those tiny frogs I have been finding and tossing into the garden might have been appetizers for the garter snakes and I'm feeling kinda guilty about that. Maybe the snakes even thought I was deliberately feeding them and invited their friends. I am generally thinking about snakes way more than I used to. To calm myself I try to envision them with bow ties and little top hats like the ones in the Richard Scarry books I read to my kids when they were little. Though those might have been worms. Oh gosh, please don't let there be worms. There are already slugs and I can barely handle those. Oh, and a few nights ago hubby tossed his belt on the bench by the door and during late night letting out the dog by the light of the moon it definitely looked like a snake. As did the twist tie on the floor in the kitchen this morning. And the stick outside on the ground. I really have to start wearing my glasses more. ANYWAY, I'm sure I'll survive. And I know mother nature totally rocks, but I feel like we need to establish some boundaries. Hopefully she'll get the memo. Ease up on the old lady on the mountain. She's got enough on her plate and her heart can't handle much more. Peace out.
